As of midday on Wednesday 26th Nov we have confirmation of 13 bookings for Cabins or sites at RACV Cobram. We want to encourage those of you who are still thinking about it to make a booking, recognising that if your schedule changes closer to the event you are able to cancel at no cost which is one of the beauties of the RACV. As previously advised, we will be providing further details of planned and optional activities closer to the event, but the planning objective is to avoid jam packing the days
